- the skills to adapt to change, foster innovation, explore new and developing business models and build company value.

Goals and Objectives

To enhance the entrepreneurial skills of European audiovisual Promoters

To develop ambition and confidence in European audiovisual Promoters

To create stronger and more commercially viable European audiovisual Companies

To create a cooperative and trusting network of industry professionals who can utilise each other's talent, capabilities and contacts to create more and better productions and to place those productions competitively on the international market.

Screen Leaders provides participants with the opportunity to take a step back and invest in their own personal development and company development. The team work with the companies to assist them to plan strategically, influence change, collaborate and communicate effectively. The aim is to equip the participants with the skills and tools needed to implement their new strategy for their company. Unusually for such a programme the execution steps are mapped out as part of the process and the companies commit to taking these steps to implement their plan while on the programme.
